Judge Makes Talk

Outlining the new industrial relationship problem as has proven itself a most successful one in Kansas, Judge W. L. Hinzman, Topeka, of the court of industrial relations, addressed the convention Wednesday morning. In part he said:

"We are now in the midst of a most brutal and destructive industrial revolution. It is a world wide, and is witnessed, the tyranny of kings, emperors and military dictators was defeated. We are now in the midst of a most brutal and destructive industrial revolution. It is a world wide, and is witnessed, the tyranny of kings, emperors and military dictators was defeated. We are now in the midst of a most brutal and destructive industrial revolution. It is a world wide, and is witnessed, the tyranny of kings, emperors and military dictators was defeated."

"The new battle is being waged around the relations of employer and employee, capital and labor, the wage-payer and the wage-earner. Selfish, rich men are seeking to inflame class against class, the poor against the rich, the ignorant against the intelligent. Civilization is threatened with such a disaster as always follows socialist or communist ascendancy. Organized religion and organized philanthropy deserve unstinted praise for their efforts to substitute altruism for avarice in the industrial relations."

"If democracy is to survive, we must evolve a lawful solution of these constantly recurring industrial disturbances which so vitally affect the peace and prosperity of every class of our people. Public necessity is insistent. Democracy is implicable. For—Bolshevism, communism, socialism and anarchy, feed and fatten upon the aftermath of industrial war as do the vultures upon the bodies of the slain after the battles of antiquity."

"The Kansas court of industrial relations is emphatically not a tribunal for arbitration. It is, therefore, fundamentally different from the labor courts of Australia. The Kansas law is based upon the principle of adjudication, not arbitration. Neither of the three members of the court have any interest in the controversy. It is intended that they shall be as impartial and, if you please, as ignorant as the judges of the supreme court of the state. The law provides for the adjudication of industrial controversies in the same orderly way, by the same kind of tribunal, as has been used in the adjudication of all other classes of controversies for hundreds of years."

"The Kansas industrial code provides for a court of industrial relations consisting of three judges to be appointed by the governor for definite terms. It provides that, in case of a controversy between employers and workers, between crafts or groups of workers, engaged in any of said industries, if the controversy shall reach the point that it endangers the continuity of service, the supply of the necessities of life, threatens the public peace, endangers the public health, or affects the general welfare of the people, that the court, upon its own initiative, or upon the application of either party to the dispute, or upon the petition of the attorney-general, or upon the complaint of ten citizen taxpayers of the locality, shall take jurisdiction, shall investigate, determine and adjudicate such differences, make findings of fact and issue an order in the premises. By such order the court may fix rules and regulations concerning hours of labor and working conditions, and establish a minimum wage or standard of wages, all of which must be observed by both parties unless changing by agreement of the parties and approval of the court. It provides that if either party to the controversy is dissatisfied the matter may be taken directly to the supreme court of the state for review and shall be by the supreme court given preference over other civil cases in the matter of an early hearing."

Big Time Ahead.
Gaily spinning the roulette wheel, trying fan-tan and everything that goes along with a real extravagant time, was to be the feature of the convention in its entertainment program on Wednesday evening at the east entrance of Overton park. Here at 5 o'clock the gates were opened, each man supplied with $10,000 in C. S. M. A.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Ponzi Admits Term In Prison; Bank He Patronized Closed

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Charles Ponzi personally admitted today that he was the Charles Ponzi who served a term in the penitentiary for fraud. Bank Commissioner Allen today closed and took charge of the Ponzi Trust company, the institution in which the account of Ponzi, was shown recently to have been overdrawn. Mr. Allen said his agents had been examining the bank since last Saturday morning and their reports indicated it had been doing business in an unsafe manner and that it would be unsafe and inexpedient for it to continue.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—(By Canadian Press).—From records in the hands of the Montreal police, it appears that a Charles Ponzi was a member of the firm of Zoset and company, bankers in this city, which failed in 1908, 200,000 francs the country and was subsequently extradited from Mexico City.

Under the name of Bianco, alias Charles Ponzi, a man was convicted of forgery and false pretenses and sentenced to three years in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 11.—Records of the federal penitentiary here show that Charles Ponzi served a year's sentence in that institution from 1910 to 1912. He was convicted at Buffalo, N. Y., of smuggling aliens into this country.

LIVE STOCK COMMISSION RATES ARE HELD UNFAIR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Holding unfair certain rates now being charged by Chicago commission houses on cooperative shipments of live stock, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith today served notice on the interested persons that new schedules would go into effect August 16. The department acted under authority of the food control act, the announcement said.

Investigation of prevailing rates was made on complaint of the American Society of Equity, seven commission houses appearing at hearings held in Chicago in April to answer charges that higher rates were charged on live stock in carlots, having more than one owner, than in single ownership carlots.

"I find," Secretary Meredith said in his order today, "that the difference in commission rates charged for selling a single ownership car and a plural ownership car should be the actual cost of additional weighing and accounting."
